THE BALLOT ON NAMES

A Big List Will Be Considered By the Association.

REGULAR CANVASS FOR MONEY

Will Begin In the Near Future, and Arrangements Are Even Now Being Made—Finance Committee Meeting Next Friday Night.

Next Friday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian association will be held in the Auditorium. There are at least 150 names to be considered and voted into full membership. The meeting promises to be the most successful of the kind ever held by the local association. After the meeting has adjourned the board of directors will hold their regular monthly meeting in the parlor. They have nothing but general business to transact. The finance committee met last evening and talked money. Arrangements were made for the annual canvass, and it will be commenced in the near future. It is probable the association will meet with more financial assistance from the business men than ever before, as its worth to the community is being demonstrated more fully each day.

The pledges recently signed are bearing good fruit, and already seven names have been added to the list, making the total membership of the association at the present time 248. It will reach the 250 mark before tomorrow morning, and the outlook is very favorable toward securing the desired 400 members before May 1.

Preparations are being made to organize a base ball team composed of none but members of the association.

WATCHING POSTMASTERS.

The Fourth Class Officials Have a Hard Time of It.

The publication recently of the statement that fourth class postmasters are being closely watched for any mistakes they may make is not, according to a well known resident of this city, without a firm foundation. He cites the case of a postmaster who gets a few dollars every year for doing Uncle Sam's business in a country store not far from town. Three of his neighbors have applied for the place, and knowing he will serve out his time unless removed for cause they keep watch on his movements. One has acknowledged that he sent in two complaints to the department, and the others think they may in some way profit by his vigilance. Meanwhile the neighborhood expects soon to have a new postmaster.

HAPPY SONS OF VETERANS.

They Are Perfect According to the Standard of Inspection.

General Garfield Camp, Sons of Veterans, last evening received their inspection blanks from Division Inspector Gus C. Spreen, and were delighted to find that their grade for the annual inspection which took place in December was 100, making them a camp of the first class. The averages of the camps in the state shows that not over one in a year reaches the perfect mark, and accordingly the local boys are very proud of their record. Last year their grade was 96. They have been asked by prominent division officers to attend the division encampment to be held in Massillon in May, and there exemplify the secret work of the order. This is another honor seldom conferred on any camp.

AT BRADSHAW'S HALL.

Take In the Treat Given For Benefit Christian Church.

Take your lady friends with you tomorrow night, Thursday, April 8, and enjoy a delightful entertainment. Vocal and instrumental solos. Listen to the zylphone solos. Foreign talent on hand. Admission to entertainment only 10 and 15 cents. After entertainment, delicious ice cream and palatable cake will be served, at usual prices. The youngsters of the Christian church are anxious to do their share in adding to the building fund needed for the erection of the new church. This spirit is a very commendable one, and a generous and appreciative public should crowd Bradshaw's hall tomorrow night. The entertainment will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

WILL GRADUATE.

John Hanley to Leave Westminster College With Honors.

John C. Hanley and H. C. Chambers, of East End, left this morning to resume their studies at Westminster college after a vacation of two weeks. Commencement exercises will be held at the college June 16, at which time Mr. Hanley will graduate. In the evening the annual inter-society contest will take place, and he will have the honor of representing the Hahelpic society as their orator in the contest. In the contest held last year Mr. Hanley won, and his friends are confident he will again carry off the honors.

STILL AT IT.

Sewer Pipe Manufacturers Have Not Abandoned Hope.

The following from a Pittsburg paper shows that the sewer pipe men are still at it:

"A committee of sewer pipe manufacturers met at the Monongahela house yesterday to confer with several firms that have refused to join a combination to advance prices through a system of allotments of territory or through a selling agency. A member of the Pittsburg Clay Company, of New Brighton, met with the committee, and it is believed the New Brighton concern will join the association.

"It is said that during a former combination, of which the New Brighton company was a member, it got the worst of it to such an extent that the officials have been scared of pools ever since, and this has kept the sewer pipe manufacturers from coming together."

MARLATT IS DOING WELL.

He Is Behaving Better Than For Several Months.

A special from Columbus says that Ira Marlatt is doing better than for several months. Since the scene in his cell a few weeks ago when a guard threw him into a corner and threatened to give him nothing to eat for the remainder of his days if he did not cease pounding on the bars of his cell, he has acted very well. There is a suspicion that the wily convict is employing his time in producing some more of those deadly weapons for which he has become famous, but no indication of it has yet been found. He is being closely watched, the warden having had too much experience with him to put the slightest trust in his repentance.

NO HOPE

Of the Alcania Tin Company Ever Coming to This Place.

"Is the Alcania Tin company still doing business in Youngstown or has it moved to some other town?" was the question asked a NEWS REVIEW reporter by a business man this morning. The reporter could not answer. He did not know. After representatives of the company were here they continued for a few weeks to leave the impression that they expected to locate here, but as the winter waned they dropped from view, and nothing has been heard of the project for several weeks. It is generally accepted that wherever the Alcania will go it will not come to East Liverpool.

MAKING PROGRESS.

Christian Church Committee Doing Well in the Canvass For Funds.

The trustees of the Christian church held their regular monthly meeting last night at the residence of O. C. Vodrey. There were only a few members present. Several committees on the new church reported progress. Other reports of the church were read which closed the session. The soliciting committee made no report, as the member who holds the largest list was absent. About $3,500 has been raised so far. Another meeting will be held this week to hear from the solicitors.

DOCTOR OGDEN ENCOURAGED.

Not a New Case of Measles Was Reported Today.

Doctor Ogden and Officer Burgess are beginning to breathe easier, and now feel confident that the epidemic of measles is on the decline. Not a case was reported yesterday, and to a late hour this afternoon the prospect was equally encouraging. East End has had its share of the disease, and there is as yet no sign of it abating in that part of the city, but physicians do not believe it will last long.

WILL TRAIN WITH MAHER.

Denver Smith Thinks Choyinski a Hard Man to Whip.

Denver Smith arrived in Pittsburg last night, and left at once for New York, where he will join Peter Maher. Smith will train for his coming fight with Choyinski along with Maher. Smith stated last evening that he had to meet one of the best men in the country to beat when he meets Choyinski, and he, therefore, means to be in the best possible condition for the contest.

Will Give an Entertainment.

The American Mechanics of Chester are making preparations to give a musical and literary entertainment in their hall in the near future.

Has the Fever.

The four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Maggie McEntree, of Broadway, is seriously ill with an attack of fever.

THEY DON'T HESITATE

Tariff Delay In the Senate Not Hurting Trade.

THERE IS CONFIDENCE NOW

Nevertheless Manufacturers and Workmen Would Like to Have the Question Settled at the Earliest Possible Date. Little Change Is Expected.

"No, I can't say that the failure of the senate to speedily endorse the Dingley bill and the prospect of a long wait before the vote will be taken is having much effect on trade. The people have confidence, and that is a big thing in our business."

The words were spoken by a well known manufacturer of the city who is so deeply interested in the tariff that he closely follows every move made on the big board in Washington. Soon after it became evident that the house would lose no time in passing the bill then in course of preparation by the ways and means committee, business in the potting trade began to improve, and it has been improving ever since. Before the middle of February there was a noticeable picking up, and during March everybody was pleased. American dealers bought American ware, and they have continued to buy. The action of the senate, it is believed, will not seriously hurt the crockery schedule, and no cut is anticipated. Nevertheless there is a little anxiety here, and it is not confined to the manufacturing potters. The operatives are as deeply interested, and all would be satisfied if the vote was to be taken tomorrow. This uneasiness has not spread to the retail trade, nor is it at all likely that it will. While it certainly means much to that branch it means much more to those who are so directly interested that it will at once affect their financial interests. The importers have determined to take what they believe is a grievance to the senate, but no uneasiness is felt on that score.

MUST MOVE AT ONCE

If the Canning Concern Is to Locate in Chester.

Unless something is done by the Liverpool stockholders of the Windsor Packing company it will not locate here. So said C. L. Taylor this morning. "For the past three weeks the people have been playing horse with me, and I am getting tired of it. Most every week they say they will hold a conference with me, but as yet I have failed to see any of them. Today they were to meet me, but none of the members put in an appearance. If they want the plant they had better get a move on or no Windsor plant will come to this town, and that's final."

AN EXPENSIVE JOKE.

Which Did Not Terminate as the Joker Desired.

The joke was on the girl. There is a young lady in this city who seems to have a kindly feeling toward an up-town druggist. On the 1st of April the lady in question sent a box to Pittsburg, with instruction that it be shipped back to the druggist. The box arrived a few days ago, and as he could not remember of any goods being ordered from that city, he declined to accept the box or to pay any charges on it. The box was then shipped back to Pittsburg, and from there to the sender in this city. The young lady was compelled to pay the charges all through.

BRUTAL AND POPULAR.

Is Chicken Fighting as Practiced in the City.

Cock fighting is at present the most popular and the most brutal "sport" in the city. Contests take place every day, according to those who are in position to talk, and chicken blood flows freely. One party of gamblers never miss an opportunity to enjoy a fight, and at one place, a select few often gather at the noon hour to see a battle. It is also said that some of the best game chickens ever seen in this part of the country are at present the property of local men. If the interest continues, and the police do not step in, a main of unusual proportions will be arranged for the week after next.

WILL LOSE NO TIME.

Commissioners Will Probably Move Quickly.

"The commissioners will likely go right along with the jail improvement," said Judge Young who was in the city on business today. "They are allowed $10,000 a year for work of this kind, and I have not the least doubt but what they will use that amount in placing the old structure in a habitable condition. Doing the work in this manner will likely make it cost more money than if a new structure was built, but the vote was against that you know, and the commissioners must make the best of it.

PISGAH'S POET.

The Prophet and Poet Breaketh Into Caustic Verse.

D. J. Smith, Mount Pisgah's patriotic prophet, always battling for the right and taking issue against evil and wrong, believes that the fee system is simply highway robbery, the robbers being office holders, men who are controlled by the ringsters and tricksters, and who hold up the mechanic, the workingman, the laborer, the toiler, the business man, the merchant, and all those who earn their bread by the sweat of their face. Said tricksters dare to ring out the order to honest taxpayers—"stand and deliver." D. J. Smith believes that it is high time such infamy should cease, and he is warmly backed by a host of manly and independent voters, men who call no man "master," and who will not obey the crack and blow of the lash of the boss. Listen to the prophet: Oh, those fees—those nice fat fees, Which give to me the essence of ease, Making my life, by night and by day, A ceaseless round of joy and play.

I gather them in with greedy maw, I gather them in by order of law; And I laugh in glee at the working man Who dares to oppose this glorious plan.

I'm an officeholder. I scoff at the crowd Whose grumbling now is long and loud. But I laugh at this growl, I can suffer no loss.

For I'm hand in glove with the party boss.

I'll hold my berth for a number of years And not be troubled with foolish fears, For I'll save enough from my nice, fat fees To spend the rest of my life at ease.

And then my cousin will take my place, With willing heart and winsome grace. "The people," you say, "may have a voice."

You make me smile—they've Hobson's choice.

And so we run the "voting machine," For our party boss is cunning and keen, And we need fat fees to perfect such plan.

What do we care for the worker and toiler? We must have steam for the party boiler; We need fat fees, from the taxpayers' sweat, And the boss will get them—he will, you bet.

Oh those fees, those lovely fat fees! I can't give them up—don't ask me too, please.

The voter's a fool; he may cry, whine and moan, When he asks us for bread, we give him a stone.

SELAH.

D. J. SMITH, MT. PISGAH.

SHE WORE THE BLOOMERS

And Doctor Grable Rested Until His Wife Wearied of Them.

A recent issue of the Canton News Democrat contains this spicy little notice, more spicy, perhaps, to East Liverpool people than to the doctor's Canton neighbors:

"Notice to patrons of the U. S. sanitarium—I will rest from work or business at the sanitarium until Mrs. Grable fully decides whether or not she will continue trying to be the head of the house."

Respectfully yours, "J. H. GRABLE, "Superintendent."

The Democrat significantly states that the doctor came to the office on crutches. He will be well remembered in this place as being at one time engaged in soliciting subscriptions for the Gazette, and making a name for himself.

MARCH WEATHER FAVORABLE.

The Crop Report Is Therefore Unusually Encouraging.

The crop report for the week says that weather conditions in this part of Ohio during March were favorable to agricultural interests. There was a decided modification of the extreme contrasts of temperature which prevailed in the same month a year ago. The March temperature was normal, being the same as the average for 14 years. Meadows, clover and grasses are starting up in satisfactory shape, and farm work is well advanced.

LOOKING FOR A MAN.

Wellsville Officers Were After a Notorious Character.

Chief Warren and Officer Thorn, of Wellsville, were in town last night, and in company with Constable Bertele visited the saloons and pool rooms of the city in search of a well known Wellsville character, who is badly wanted. They searched every nook and corner, and although convinced their man was here, could not find him. They refused to make known the man's name or give the crime for which he is wanted.

Cumberland Visitors.

J. C. Plattenburg and Postmaster Stewart, of New Cumberland, were city visitors last evening.

TO COLOR OUR WARE

New Process Patented by Will Deidrick.

PAPERS EXPECTED THIS WEEK

He Has Evolved a Plan Whereby It Will No Longer Be Necessary to Color the Glaze, but Has Better Results by Coloring the Clay.

Will Deidrick, inventor, has applied for a patent on a new process for coloring pottery, and if past trials count for anything, it is a success. The process is that of coloring the clay instead of coloring the ware in the glazing, as has been done in the past. The formula is very simple, and is mixed in the clay before it goes to the clay shops. By the new way it is impossible for the coloring to leave the ware. Not only can the new process be used in the potteries here, but can also be applied to tiling and all other ware that is made from clay. The process can also be used in the making of sanitary ware. It is expected the patent papers will arrive this week, and it is said one of the local potteries will use it at once. It is but simply a matter of making the coloring stay with the ware.

FACTS

Why Our Citizens Should Be Proud of the Business College.

Since Professor Cooper has taken the reins that govern this institution of learning the school has become famous, and today stands second to none of its kind in the country.

It will only be a question of a few years until this school will be converted into a university, as arrangements have already been made with other schools and colleges whereby the students can enter other schools, such as Ada, and on presenting their grades from the Ohio Valley Business College, they will get credit for all studies they have grades in, without further examination. Students are already coming a distance of 200 miles to enroll in this school, and the college is certainly a boon to the city, as it brings money, as well as good and upright young ladies and gentlemen, to the city.

J. F. COOPER, President.

ON THE RIVER.

The New Packet Will Pass Here Early in June.

The river is rising and is now nearing the eight foot mark. The rise is termed one of clear water.

Passed up, Hudson, Relief; down, Kenawha, Cascade.

The Queen city is expected to pass this port, on her first trip up, about June 8.

Over 4,700,000 bushels of coal passed this city during the last rise.

Preparations are being made to start work on the new Beaver dam, and it is expected to have the work finished within a year.

No tidings have yet been heard of William Deevers, the drowned pilot who had charge of the Hawk when she went down. Some still cling to the opinion that the body is in the wreckage.

The Hudson will be down tonight.

ASKED FOR THE CHILD.

A Little Misunderstanding Caused Its Removal.

A few days ago the township trustees sent a 16-months-old child to the Fairmount Children's home by request of its mother, who claimed her father would not permit her to keep it, and as her husband was dead she was unable to support the child. Last evening the father appeared and asked that the child be brought home, which will be done. The affair probably arose from a misunderstanding between the father and his daughter.

JAIL VOTE COUNTED.

It Clearly Shows the Will of the People.

Lisbon, April 7.—[Special.]—The jail vote is all in, excepting two small precincts in Unity township. The result is what was expected. It shows: for bonds, 3247; against bonds, 6389.

A Big Boil.

Elmer McCord, engineer at Patterson's foundry, is confined to his home in West Market street suffering from an unusually severe boil on his nose.

Attended a Wedding.

Mrs. Henry Goodwin and Mrs. George Grosshans were in New Brighton last evening attending the china wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Powell.

THE BALLOT ON NAMES

A Big List Will Be Considered By the Association.

REGULAR CANVASS FOR MONEY

Will Begin In the Near Future, and Arrangements Are Even Now Being Made—Finance Committee Meeting Next Friday Night.

Next Friday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian association will be held in the Auditorium. There are at least 150 names to be considered and voted into full membership. The meeting promises to be the most successful of the kind ever held by the local association. After the meeting has adjourned the board of directors will hold their regular monthly meeting in the parlor. They have nothing but general business to transact. Preparations are being made to organize a base ball team composed of none but members of the association.

HAPPY SONS OF VETERANS.

They Are Perfect According to the Standard of Inspection.

General Garfield Camp, Sons of Veterans, last evening received their inspection blanks from Division Inspector Gus C. Spreen, and were delighted to find that their grade for the annual inspection which took place in December was 100, making them a camp of the first class. The averages of the camps in the state shows that not over one in a year reaches the perfect mark, and accordingly the local boys are very proud of their record. Last year their grade was 96. ### WILL GRADUATE.

John Hanley to Leave Westminster College With Honors.

John C. Hanley and H. C. Chambers, of East End, left this morning to resume their studies at Westminster college after a vacation of two weeks. Commencement exercises will be held at the college June 16, at which time Mr. Hanley will graduate. In the evening the annual inter-society contest will take place, and he will have the honor of representing the Halcipic society as their orator in the contest. In the contest held last year Mr. Hanley won, and his friends are confident he will again carry off the honors.

STILL AT IT.

Sewer Pipe Manufacturers Have Not Abandoned Hope.

The following from a Pittsburg paper shows that the sewer pipe men are still at it:

MAKING PROGRESS.

Christian Church Committees Doing Well In the Canvass For Funds.

The trustees of the Christian church held their regular monthly meeting last night at the residence of O. C. Vodrey. There were only a few members present. Several committees on the new church reported progress. Other reports of the church were read which closed the session. The soliciting committee made no report, as the member who holds the largest list was absent. About $3,500 has been raised so far. The Prophet and Poet Breaketh Into Caustic Verse.

D. J. Smith, Mount Pisgah's patriotic prophet, always battling for the right and taking issue against evil and wrong, believes that the fee system is simply highway robbery, the robbers being office holders, men who are controlled by the ringsters and tricksters, and who hold up the mechanic, the workman, the laborer, the toiler, the business man, the merchant, and all those who earn their bread by the sweat of their face. Said tricksters dare to ring out the order to honest taxpayers—"stand and deliver." D. J. Smith believes that it is high time such infamy should cease, and he is warmly backed by a host of manly and independent voters, men who call no man "master," and who will not obey the crack and blow of the lash of the boss. Listen to the prophet: Oh, those fees—those nice fat fees, Which give to me the essence of ease, Making my life, by night and by day, A ceaseless round of joy and play.

I gather them in with greedy maw, I gather them in by order of law; And I laugh in glee at the working man Who dares to oppose this glorious plan.

I'm an officeholder. I scoff at the crowd Whose grumbling now is long and loud. But I laugh at this groveling I can suffer no loss, For I'm hand in glove with the party boss.

I'll hold my berth for a number of years And not be troubled with foolish fears, For I'll save enough from my nice fat fees To spend the rest of my life at ease.

And then my cousin will take my place, With willing heart and winsome grace. "The people," you say, "may have a voice," You make me smile—they've Hobson's choice.

And so we run the "voting machine," For our party boss is cunning and keen, And we need fat fees to perfect such plan, And put in office our very own man.

What do we care for the worker and toiler? We must have steam for the party boiler; We need fat fees, from the taxpayers' sweat, And the boss will get them—he will, you bet.

Oh those fees, those lovely fat fees! I can't give them up—don't ask me too, please. The voter's a fool; he may cry, whine and moan, When he asks us for bread, we give him a stone. SELAH.

D. J. SMITH, MT. PISGAH.

SHE WORE THE BLOOMERS

And Doctor Grable Rested Until His Wife Wearied of Them.

A recent issue of the Canton News Democrat contains this spicy little notice, more spicy, perhaps, to East Liverpool people than to the doctor's Canton neighbors:

"Notice to patrons of the U. S. sanitarium—I will rest from work or business at the sanitarium until Mrs. Grable fully decides whether or not she will continue trying to be the head of the house.

Respectfully yours, "J. H. GRABLE, "Superintendent."

The Democrat significantly states that the doctor came to the office on crutches. He will be well remembered in this place as being at one time engaged in soliciting subscriptions for the Gazette, and making a name for himself.

MARCH WEATHER FAVORABLE.

The Crop Report Is Therefore Unusually Encouraging.

The crop report for the week says that weather conditions in this part of Ohio during March were favorable to agricultural interests. There was a decided modification of the extreme contrasts of temperature which prevailed in the same month a year ago. The March temperature was normal, being the same as the average for 14 years. Meadows, clover and grasses are starting up in satisfactory shape, and farm work is well advanced.

LOOKING FOR A MAN.

Wellsville Officers Were After a Notorious Character.

Chief Warren and Officer Thorn, of Wellsville, were in town last night, and in company with Constable Bertele visited the saloons and pool rooms of the city in search of a well known Wellsville character, who is badly wanted. They searched every nook and corner, and although convinced their man was here, could not find him. They refused to make known the man's name or give the crime for which he is wanted.

Cumberland Visitors.

J. C. Plattenburg and Postmaster Stewart, of New Cumberland, were city visitors last evening.

TO COLOR OUR WARE

New Process Patented by Will Deidrick.

PAPERS EXPECTED THIS WEEK

He Has Evolved a Plan Whereby It Will No Longer Be Necessary to Color the Glaze, but Has Better Results by Coloring the Clay.

Will Deidrick, inventor, has applied for a patent on a new process for coloring pottery, and if past trials count for anything, it is a success. The process is that of coloring the clay instead of coloring the ware in the glazing, as has been done in the past. The formula is very simple, and is mixed in the clay before it goes to the clay shops. By the new way it is impossible for the coloring to leave the ware. Not only can the new process be used in the potteries here, but can also be applied to tiling and all other ware that is made from clay. The process can also be used in the making of sanitary ware. It is expected the patent papers will arrive this week, and it is said one of the local potteries will use it at once. It is but simply a matter of making the coloring stay with the ware.

FACTS

Why Our Citizens Should Be Proud of the Business College.

Since Professor Cooper has taken the reins that govern this institution of learning the school has become famous, and today stands second to none of its kind in the country.

It will only be a question of a few years until this school will be converted into a university, as arrangements have already been made with other schools and colleges whereby the students can enter other schools, such as Ada, and on presenting their grades from the Ohio Valley Business College, they will get credit for all studies they have grades in, without further examination. Students are already coming a distance of 200 miles to enroll in this school, and the college is certainly a boon to the city, as it brings money, as well as good and upright young ladies and gentlemen, to the city.

ON THE RIVER.

The New Packet Will Pass Here Early In June.

The river is rising and is now nearing the eight foot mark. The rise is termed one of clear water.

Passed up, Hudson, Relief; down, Kenawha, Cascade.

The Queen city is expected to pass this port, on her first trip up, about June 8.

Over 4,700,000 bushels of coal passed this city during the last rise.

Preparations are being made to start work on the new Beaver dam, and it is expected to have the work finished within a year.

No tidings have yet been heard of William Deevers, the drowned pilot who had charge of the Hawk when she went down. Some still cling to the opinion that the body is in the wreckage.

The Hudson will be down tonight.

ASKED FOR THE CHILD.

A Little Misunderstanding Caused Its Removal.

A few days ago the township trustees sent a 16-months-old child to the Fairmount Children's home by request of its mother, who claimed her father would not permit her to keep it, and as her husband was dead she was unable to support the child. Last evening the father appeared and asked that the child be brought home, which will be done. The affair probably arose from a misunderstanding between the father and his daughter.

JAIL VOTE COUNTED.

It Clearly Shows the Will of the People.

LISBON, April 7.—[Special.]—The jail vote is all in, excepting two small precincts in Unity township. The result is what was expected. It shows: for bonds, 3247; against bonds, 6389.

A Big Boil.

Elmer McCord, engineer at Patterson's foundry, is confined to his home in West Market street suffering from an unusually severe boil on his nose.

Attended a Wedding.

Mrs. Henry Goodwin and Mrs. George Grosshans were in New Brighton last evening attending the china wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Powell.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7.

Mr. FORAKER the other day stumbled against the first of the many stones that are popularly supposed to beset the rough and rocky road of the average senator. Some one moved to amend his pooling bill.

SEVEN thousand men and over, who have been idle for a long time, were put to work in the Monongahela valley

this week. You never heard of those things occurring when Mr. Cleveland was president.

EAST LIVERPOOL advertisers use the NEWS REVIEW because it not only reaches more people than its competitors, but because they are the people who know the merit of dealing with merchants who advertise.

OCCASIONALLY some merit is found in the legislation enacted by the average state legislature, but it is not often so sensible a measure as that which gives

Indianapolis a three cent street car fare finds its way to the statute books.

IF Teddy Roosevelt raises as much of a row while in the navy department as he did during the time he was connected with New York city government, the nation will not be long in finding out that it pays to have a real live newspaper man around.

A FEW months ago Mr. Bryan was advising Democrats everywhere to inject

the silver issue into municipal campaigns, and probably thought enough of himself to believe his theory would be accepted. He now probably knows that members of his party in Ohio did not pay his political sagacity the greatest compliment imaginable.

DUTY.

The men East Liverpool has seen fit to honor with office, should never forget that they owe their best efforts to the city and its people. There have been times when public servants imagined

they were public monarchs, and their actions were not calculated to inspire

the sweetest confidence in the assertion that our form of government is for and by the people. They have a duty to perform, and that duty is the caring for public business with the same solicitude

with which they look after their own.

Too often in the history of this place that one principle has been a minus quantity.

A GOOD INFLUENCE.

That clause in the Dingley bill which makes payable the duties of the measure from April 2 is doing just what its framers desired in the way of cutting down importations. The men who sell foreign manufactures in America enter a hope that the senate will yet cut down the rate, and desiring to take every advantage the government offers,

they are only importing what is absolutely necessary to supply immediate demands of their customers. Whether the plan will have any preceptible effect upon domestic trade has not yet been determined, but there is apparently no good reason why it should not.

OHIO'S ELECTIONS.

The Democrat who can find comfort in Tuesday's election is surely possessed of that rare power of adaptability which would allow him to discover pleasure as he stood on his head in a bucket of water with the mercury playing about the zero mark. His party carried

FLOATED $300,000 OF OHIO BONDS.

Courts Are Pending Against Him—His

Forgeries Caused Much Excitement

Among Bankers.

URBANA, O., April 7.—Z. T. Lewis, who became a fugitive from justice

two years ago after committing a series of the most daring forgeries ever attempted in this state, has been brought back to Urbana from Ypsilanti, Mich.,

where he was arrested. Lewis is a physical wreck. Constant worry has undermined his constitution and he is suffering severely from nervous prostration and rheumatism. Lewis, who had been counted a shrewd financier, confined his forgeries to county and school district bonds. The forgeries amounted to about $300,000 and the securities he forged were represented to have been issued in five different Ohio counties. He imposed upon some of the most cautious bankers and brokers

in this section of the country as well as many in the bond markets of the east.

Four hundred indictments are now pending in various Ohio courts against

Lewis, although his arrest was made on a warrant charging but one forgery.

The National Bank of Redemption of Boston will back the prosecution of the prisoner at the trial which is to be begun as soon as possible. When arrested at Ypsilanti Lewis was living with his family under the name of James Leache. He consented to return to Ohio without a requisition. When asked if he had anything to say Lewis replied: "Not now, but probably I will talk to you later."

Lewis was caught through his mailing letters to his family. When arrested Lewis coolly remarked he was sorry he ever left home.

Lewis was arrested by private detective Kirby of Dayton, O., who has been on his track ever since Lewis' disappearance from Urbana. Lewis has been tracked all over the country, and once

Detective Ralph Crawford of Cincinnati

followed him to Mexico.

Lewis was a banker and broker at Urbana and was regarded as one of the shrewdest financial men in the state.

The financial world was shocked when it developed that Lewis had forged

thousands of dollars worth of Dayton

city bonds and floated them. A warrant was sworn out for Lewis' arrest,

but he fled before the officers could arrest him.

BESIEGED BY INVESTORS.

Many People Caught by the Dean Company Failure.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The offices of

E. S. Dean & Co. were besieged by anxious investors. Some of them came from New Jersey and from up New York state, hoping to get back some of their money. The deputy sheriff in charge of the office gave them no encouragement. He also refused to receive numerous collect telegraphic despatches. Some of the investors were poor washerwomen and seamstresses who had given their last dollar to the bucket shop, tempted by the promise of enormous profits. Even the firm's own typewriters had not received their wages. It is said that 2,000 investors all over the United States have lost

$5,000,000.

A representative of the postoffice department, it is rumored, has lately been in Wall street endeavoring to work up cases against bucketshops and other similar concerns which do most of their business through the mails.

The firm made money, and pooling its profits divided them pro rata among investors. March 1 a circular was sent out to the effect that in view of the war

complications in the east wheat was a desirable investment. The decision of the United States supreme court in the railroad pool upset calculations, for it sent wheat down four points, and the E. S. Dean company, having its money invested in the railroad pool, was in a

The King Receives a Great Ovation.

Many Cries For War.

ATHENS, April 7.—The greatest enthusiasm was manifested here during the fetes organized to celebrate the an-iversary of the declaration in 1821 of the independence of Greece from Turkish rule. The king and the members of the royal family here, accompanied by the ministers and all the high court and other officials of Athens, attended the religious ceremonies at the Cathedral where a Te Deum was sung. The king received a great ovation during his passage to and from the Cathedral and he and the ministers were showered with leaflets inscribed, "hurrah

for war."

The scenes throughout the day, although very brilliant, were lacking in the usual imposing display on account of the large number of troops sent to the frontier. There was a salute of 21 guns in the morning and a free feast of roast lamb, the national dish, was given to the poor.

Throughout the day crowds of people

paraded the streets cheering the king and for war with Turkey.

The celebration commenced with the Te Deum at the Cathedral. Enroute the crowns of the carriage occupied by the princesses became alarmed, bolted and the vehicle was overturned. A scene of tremendous excitement followed. The people rushed to the spot from all sides and raised the carriage.

The princesses, who were not hurt, soon entered the king's carriage and proceeded to the Cathedral.

There were no manifestations upon the part of the crowd when the foreign representatives passed, but when the cortege reached the Cathedral there were terrific shouts of "long live war,"

"long live Greece" and "long live the king."

There was another popular demonstration in front of the university.

Large numbers of Greek flags were displayed and wreaths were deposited on the statues of the heroes of Greek independence. Patriotic speeches were made, the warlike sentiments were loudly applauded and the speakers received ovations.

BRYAN CALLS ON M'KINLEY.

The Democratic Candidate a Visitor at the White House.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—There were some important callers at the White House. First came Senator Hanna of Ohio, who had just returned from Cleveland. He was with Mr. McKinley half an hour. While Mr. Hanna was still in the White House Mr. Bryan, the late

Democratic candidate for president, called with Representative McMillin

of Tennessee and Attorney General

Smythe of Nebraska, to pay his respects to his successful rival. They were immediately ushered into Mr.

McKinley's private office. The president, who was talking to a group of gentlemen, advanced and the president and the candidate shook hands cordially.

Mr. Bryan remarked upon the president's apparent good health and the latter spoke of the fact that he had been by the newspapers that Mr. Bryan was here to argue a case before the supreme court. He also said he had received a copy of Mr. Bryan's book a few days ago, but as yet had not had time to read it.

"There is no law which compels you read it," remarked Mr. Bryan, smiling.

After a further exchange of courtesies and pleasantries Mr. Bryan retired. He expressed a desire to be shown through the White House and Doorkeeper Du-bouis conducted him through the various parlors and the conservatory. In the main parlor, just as he was emerging,

he met Mrs. McKinley, who was going out for a drive, and saluted her cordially. Mrs. McKinley acknowledged the salute with a smile, but it is doubtful whether she recognized him. On the porch, while awaiting the arrival of

A Note of Warning.

A number of the remedies commonly used for throat trouble have but little merit. The indiscriminate and careless use of some of them is attended with positive danger.

As a prominent example, Chlorate of Potash probably does a great deal of harm than good. Many people, when suffering from sore throat and like troubles, carry crystals or tablets of Chlorate of Potash in their pockets, and at them almost like candy. Chlorate of Potash has a decided direct action on the kidneys and its unwise use in frequent and large doses irritates these organs and leads to really serious results, especially so in children.

Some may think this is sounding a false

and needless alarm but as a single proof

we wish to state that we have before us

the November, 1894, copy of the Indiana

Medical Journal, wherein are reported

two deaths clearly due directly to this habit of using Chlorate of Potash with no regard to its powerful properties.

In the past there may have been some excuse for people trifling with dangerous and powerful drugs in the home treatment of Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup

and Quinsy, as there was a lack of a valuable cure for these diseases. A remedy has recently been placed on sale specially

for this class of troubles and it is meeting with a well merited success, as every prudent mother wants such a remedy at hand. Its name is Tonsiline. It never fails. Your dealer has it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

TO DEMAND JUSTICE.

An Ambassador Will Be Sent To Turkey.

MUST RECOGNIZE OUR RIGHTS.

Secretary John W. Foster Goes as Ambassador and Will Push Our Claims For Damages and to Have United States Consuls Recognized.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The adoption of a vigorous policy to secure from the Turkish government a settlement of the claims preferred by the United States on account of the destruction of American missionary property and outposts to American missionaries committed during the uprising against the Armenians in the fall of 1895 is being considered by the new administration and probably will be put into operation soon. President McKinley's program contemplates the sending to Constantinople of Hon. John W. Foster, former secretary of state, as a special envoy with the rank of ambassador to secure from the sultan the payment of the claims which have been filed and the speedy trial of those American citizens against whom charges have been made by Turkish officials.

The president probably will send to congress a message recommending that authority be given him to commission a special ambassador to Turkey for this purpose, and, while no name will be proposed by the message, Mr. Foster will be entrusted with the mission in the event that congress gives the president the power which he desires. Mr. Foster has already been asked to undertake the mission, and, although he was at first reluctant to accept it, he finally consented to do so on certain conditions.

Under the proposed arrangement Mr. Foster may be sent to Turkey when the resignation of Minister Terrell is accepted to serve there as envoy extraordinary with the rank of ambassador until his work has been performed and then give place to the minister who will be appointed as Mr. Terrell's successor. No reflection upon the abilities of Minister Terrell will be involved in this plan for any representative with the rank of minister works under a heavy handicap at a capital where all the larger powers and several of the smaller ones are represented by an ambassador.

Several questions are at issue between the United States and Turkey as a result of the Armenian troubles, the satisfactory adjustment of which the sultan has refused or postponed from time to time and which the administration desires to settle. Claims amounting to $150,000 have been presented by Minister Terrell on account of the damages done to the Euphrates college at Harput, which is the property of the American board of foreign missions, to the Marsh Theological seminary and the residence of an American missionary at Hasquey, a suburb of Constantinople.

The sultan has refused to recognize Messrs. Bergholz and Hunter, who two years ago were sent by the United States as consuls to Erzerum and Harput. No apology or explanation has been offered nor any redress given for these acts.

The new administration desires to secure the payment of the claims for damages preferred by Mr. Terrell, to secure trials for Mr. Knapp and other Americans against whom charges have been made, to gain permission for Mr. Knapp to return to his post, and to have the consuls who have been accredited to Turkish cities recognized. The churches of the country have made strong requests that these things be done.

The Turkish question has been under consideration Mr. Foster's has been the only name suggested as the one best qualified to secure for the United States the same rights accorded to other powers for their citizens in Turkey. His abilities as a diplomat and a lawyer, which were displayed in the state department and more recently in the conduct of the negotiations for peace between Japan and China, have been mentioned, and Secretary Sherman, ex-Secretary Olney and several others, among them Morgan and Mills, who are Democrats, have advocated his appointment. Mr. Foster does not desire the mission, but has indicated that he will take it as a matter of duty if called to it.

Members of the senate committee on foreign relations and the Republican leaders in the house who have been consulted are of the opinion that a bill to authorize the president to send a special representative to Turkey would not be opposed in congress.

Hunter's Chances Waning. FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.—There was some excitement before the 25th ballot was taken and many thought that an election was at hand. Senator Ellison, gold Democrat, started the ball rolling for State Senator Henry I. The Black-burn Democrats declined to vote, hoping to break a quorum, but the gold Democrats voted solidly for Martin, while the Republicans voted for Hunter, thus insuring a quorum. The ballot resulted as follows: Hunter, 59; Blackburn, 42; Martin, 12; Boyle, 6; Stone, 1. Present, 123; necessary to a choice, 62.

He Defied Them. LONDON, April 7.—The parliamentary committee inquiring into the Transvaal raid was again in session. Sir William Harcourt cross-examined Sir John Willoughby with the view of eliciting his reason for believing he had imperial authority for the raid. The witness, however, declined to say anything beyond admitting that he had had private talks with Dr. Jameson on the subject, the substance of which he refused to divulge.

Waiting on Action by Congress. WASHINGTON, April 7.—The president has decided to take no action in the matter of revoking or modifying the order of Mr. Cleveland setting aside 21 forest reserves in the west until he ascertains whether congress will legislate on the subject. It is the general understanding now that the senate will attack an amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill empowering the president to modify or revoke this order.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Rev. Swallow Before the Senate For Contempt—Other Business.

HARRISBURG, April 7.—Shortly after President Pro Tem McCarrell called the senate to order Sergeant-at-Arms Ayre announced to the presiding officer that he had in his custody the Rev. Silas C. Swallow, who stands in contempt of the senate. Rev. Mr. Swallow was brought before the bar and the presiding officer notified him that he was declared in contempt of the senate because he had refused to answer a senate committee certain questions.

Senator Gobin arose and said: "As neither the gentleman in contempt nor his attorney is permitted to speak on the floor of the senate I have been requested by the prisoner and his counsel to state that the defendant is now ready to appear before the committee and answer any questions and to bring witnesses with him. He said that his reason for not answering the questions was that he was charged in the courts with libel, and he feared that any answers he might give them would jeopardize his case, and therefore he refused to answer the questions, but now he is willing to do all that the committee asked, so far as is in his power."

Senator Walton then offered a long resolution, the text of which was that if the prisoner did not purge himself of contempt he would suffer the penalties of the law, which was finally passed.

The Walton resolution continues Dr. Swallow in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms until he testifies before the committee.

The Hamilton road bill was called up and made special order for today. The Swallow hearing took so much time that the senate did not reach the calendar.

Aside from the personal tilt between Representative Lytle and Representative Clarence there was nothing to liven up the house session. The calendar was filled with bills on third reading and several bills were passed. A bill to specifically apply the state appropriation for schools to cities of the first class passed finally. Several other bills passed finally, but none of them of much importance.

DEFENDED THE LAW.

Mr. Bryan Makes an Argument in the Railroad Case.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The supreme court room and the corridors without were crowded with spectators attracted by the appearance of Hon. William J. Bryan as counsel. The case on hearing involved the constitutionality of a law of the state of Nebraska enacted April 13, 1893, entitled "an act to regulate railroads, to classify freights, to fix reasonable maximum rates to be charged for the transportation of freights," etc.

Mr. Bryan argued that courts should not protect stock and bondholders in attempts to secure profits on fictitious capitalization. The stock and bondholder was presumed to invest with his eyes open, if he made a mistake it was no duty of a court to protect him from the consequences of that error. The states were legislating to prevent fictitious capitalization, but if courts upheld a right to profits on fictitious capitalization they encouraged it and nullified the policy of the states. If the courts held that corporations must take their chances like individuals in business they would become interested in and work for those things which would tend to promote the general welfare. In conclusion he declared that the people who gave value to a road by using it were as much entitled to consideration as those who contributed to build it, else there was no equality for citizens before the courts.

The Governor of Havana Resigns His Office.

HAVANA, April 7.—It is understood that Senor Jose Porrua, who, in February last succeeded General Suarez Valdez as civil governor of Havana and Western Cuba, has tendered his resignation by cable to Premier Canovas, forwarding by mail his reasons for the act. Captain General Weyler is said to oppose the resignation because he considers Senor Porrua's presence in the island expedient for the time. Senor Porrua, however, is evidently resolved and it is not impossible that the affair may bring about Weyler's own resignation. Senor Porrua will sail for Spain on the 20th of April, by the steamer Reina Christina. He gives up office cheerfully, he says, because it will bring an end of "compromises and disgust." On reaching Spain he will probably abandon the political following of Senor Canovas and join the wing of the extreme wing of the Conservative party headed by Romero Robledo.

When He Retires the Blockade of Crete Will Be Raised.

LONDON, April 7.—The correspondent of The Daily News at Canea says the admirals, at the oral request of Sir Alfred Billotti, the British consul in Crete, have agreed to travel throughout the island and personally to make known to the Cretans the terms of a new proclamation announcing that the blockade will continue only so long as Colonel Vassos and the Greek expeditionary force remain in Crete.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Chronicle will say tomorrow: "The Greek government learns that the foreign ambassadors at Constantinople, at the first session convened to decide upon an organic statute for Crete, adopted eastern Roumelia as a model. The omen is striking, for it indicates that the governor will be a European, selected from among the secondary powers."

Relief For Flood Sufferers.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The cabinet meeting was devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the question of sending a special message to congress calling attention to the propriety and urgency of legislation for the relief of the flood sufferers. It was the unanimous opinion of the cabinet that a special message should go to congress. This is now in the course of preparation and will go to congress today.

TO DEMAND JUSTICE.

An Ambassador Will Be Sent To Turkey.

MUST RECOGNIZE OUR RIGHTS.

Ex-Secretary John W. Foster Goes as Ambassador and Will Push Our Claims For Damages and to Have United States Consuls Recognized.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The adoption of a vigorous policy to secure from the Turkish government a settlement of the claims preferred by the United States on account of the destruction of American missionary property and outages to American missionaries committed during the uprising against the Armenians in the fall of 1895 is being considered by the new administration and probably will be put into operation soon. President McKinley's program contemplates the sending to Constantinople of Hon. John W. Foster, former secretary of state, as a special envoy with the rank of ambassador to secure from the sultan the payment of the claims which have been filed and the speedy trial of those American citizens against whom charges have been made by Turkish officials.

The president probably will send to congress a message recommending that authority be given him to commission a special ambassador to Turkey for this purpose, and, while no name will be proposed by the message, Mr. Foster will be entrusted with the mission in the event that congress gives the president the power which he desires. Mr. Foster has already been asked to undertake the mission, and, although he was at first reluctant to accept it, he finally consented to do so on certain conditions.

Under the proposed arrangement Mr. Foster may be sent to Turkey when the resignation of Minister Terrell is accepted to serve there as envoy extraordinary with the rank of ambassador until his work has been performed and then give place to the minister who will be appointed as Mr. Terrell's successor. No reflection upon the abilities of Minister Terrell will be involved in this plan for any representative with the rank of minister works under a heavy handicap at a capital where all the larger powers and several of the smaller ones are represented by an ambassador.

Several questions are at issue between the United States and Turkey as a result of the Armenian troubles, the satisfactory adjustment of which the sultan has refused or postponed from time to time and which the administration desires to settle.
